FOURTH QUARTER:

On 1 December 1980, in accordance with Chief of Naval Operations Directives, the personnel processing functions for disciplinary/transients were transferred from Military Personnel Department, Naval Station, to Personnel Support Detachment, Naval Station. This transfer was informal; formal billet and responsibility negotiations are still underway.

MAJOR EVENTS, DEVELOPMENTS AND OPERATIONS

FIRST QUARTER

Assignment, San Diego, a commercial enterprise publication for newcomers, developed under Public Affairs Office, delivered and distributed area wide. Increased acceptance area wide is evidenced by increased number of San Diego commands seeking publication.

Construction on the new 32nd Street Gas Station Canopy began 24 March 1980.

SECOND QUARTER

Public Affairs Office and Waterfront Department implemented first expanded and joint area-command's Armed Forces Day at Broadway Pier.

First Navy Inspector General Oversight, Safety and Health Inspection conducted.

A ground-breaking was held for a new racquetball building. The new facility will be over 9,000 feet containing six regulation racquetball courts with areas above each court where spectators may watch the action and locker rooms and saunas for men and women. The building also has a gear issue and an exercise room. Scheduled construction completion date is 5 July 1981.

NACU (Navy Absentee Collection Unit) established with Naval Station for Administrative purpose. Unit tasked with distributing personnel who are in an unauthorized absence and/or deserter status from pick-up points, and returning them back to parent command.

THIRD QUARTER

MARS Station opened for operation as a program of Special Services. This program functions with all military personnel under the General Recreation Director and is located in Building 549, near Pier 6.

Monthly classes are conducted for the forces afloat. The facility is equipped to handle phone patches with any capable fleet command and can send MARSGRAMS anywhere in the country.

Ground breaking was held for Naval Station Field House to be constructed by RIHA Construction Company of La Mesa. Architects for the structure were Oberg, Hunt, Gilleland, and George Raymond Walsh. Architects for the structure regulation basketball courts which could be adjusted for use as a volleyball court. Also included are exercise rooms for men and women, a 50 meter swimming pool and a gear issue room. The Field House will replace the athletic areas at Fifth and Harbor which was turned over to the San Diego Port Authority for 4.5 million dollars.

On 11 August 1980 the Pass and Decal Office commenced 24-hour daily service and assumed all pass functions formerly performed by the Officer of the Day and the Gate 9 Pass Office.
